Application Process
Application process will open January of each year for new applicants to complete the initial application. As an example, the application process will open January 10, 2022 for scholarship consideration for the 2022/2023 academic year. The application process may remain open until May 31st. Once funds are exhausted for the application period the application process will be closed. These dates will be subject to change and we highly recommend reviewing information on www.pphef.org for the most up to date information.

Priority Deadline:
The priority deadline for an initial scholarship application will be March 15th of each year. This means the initial application process must be completed with all required documents received by the priority deadline date for consideration. Applications completed and received by the priority deadline will be reviewed and awarded in date received order as long as funds are available. Any completed applications received after the priority deadline date may still be reviewed and awarded if funds are available based on the date received.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines:

Scholarship Renewal Process:
• Auto renewal of your scholarship award for the next academic year will be determined by reviewing the appropriate year spring academic transcript to verify the student has maintained satisfactory academic progress as outlined above.
• Students will receive a reminder email May 1st of each year to submit their college academic transcript for review and determination of scholarship renewal.
• Students may login to the Windmill Scholarship system and select the application tracker tab to see if any additional items may be needed as part of the renewal process after the reminder email mentioned above is received.
